

Biography

Catherine Haggard was born in New Orleans, LA and spent her childhood in Cullman, AL. She graduated from the University of Tennessee and Florida State University. Catherine spent 15 years working for the Episcopal Church in Province IV as a Christian Education Consultant and Camp Director. Catherine moved back to Cullman to help care for her parents and worked an additional twenty-five years in the family business of steel fabrication.

Catherine joined the Cullman Community Lion's Club in 2011 and has served as President, Secretary, and Board Director in that Club. She also has served as a Zone Chair and Region Chair for District 34A. Catherine has attended the USA/Canada Forum and many state and district conventions and training sessions. Catherine was a participant in the pilot NAMI program.

Catherine is the widow of Richard Haggard, a long time Lion in the Cullman Club. She has two step children, John Haggard who is the financial manager for the City of Alabaster, and Sandy Heren who is an ordained minister with her spiritual hands in many pots. Catherine has 3 grandchildren who are the light of her life.

Catherine is retired and spends time promoting Diabetes Awareness (her club focus), tutoring Hispanic children in English and Math, and relaxing with friends.
